John,

Although a bit belatedly, I do want to thank you for taking time from your busy schedule to join us at the DDA Office Directors' Conference [] on the night of 6 April. The consensus among the participants found your talk and responses to questions the highlight of the Conference. Your delineation of the role of the DCI in the Community, the role of the Resource Management Staff in trying to make sense out of a most complex competition for resources and your candor in describing some of the issues with which the DCI and the Community are faced went a long way toward enlightening the group in a most important field.

In addition to the substance of your session, we thoroughly enjoyed your joining us at our "happy hour" and dinner.

Thanks again for a first rate evening.
